Editor

We would greatly appreciate your giving front page mention to the contents of this letter to avoid any future unnecessary confusion, excitement and, most important of all, delay for our Valley residents who call our volunteers for emergency First Aid.

On various occasions, people in the need of emergency help have called individual firemen or first aiders instead of using the emergency telephone, which rings at five (5) extensions and which is more certain to contact someone.

Please advise your good Carmel Valley readers to use the following EMERGENCY TELEPHONE NUMBER when calling for First Aid or reporting a fire:

Open Dance For Trail & Saddle

Dallas Pack, president of the CV Trail & Saddle Club announced late Tuesday evening that the group had decided to throw open its March 16 St. Patrick's dance to the public.

Valleyites are asked to "mark your calendars" and await details from Social Chairman Mrs. David Osgood in the next issue.

VALLEY ENTRY IN KAR KAPADES

"T for Two" roadster, hand-built by Joe Carter of Carmel Valley (at right), was admired by none other than Stirling Moss at last year's San Carlos Ranch sportscar demonstration. Joe's jewel, a 1917 Model T (with Oldsmobile vitals crammed under the hood) represents some 5 years of loving labor, an investment of $5000, and a top speed that would turn Henry in his grave. Three times a top winner in past shows, the roadster will be shown with other glamor buggies in the annual KAR-KAPADES at the Monterey Fair Grounds this weekend. The show opens Friday evening, will continue through Saturday and Sunday. Tickets are $1, can be purchased at the gate.

The third "Sabin Sunday" has been set for March 10. Location and hours will be the same as for the two previous K. O. Polio putsches. Complete details will be printed in the OUTLOOK next week.

'Members Only' Plan For Saddle Mtn Ranch

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Frumkin, who for the past six years have operated 100-acre Saddle Mountain Ranch as a public recreation park, announced early this week the formation of "Los Ricos", a private club specializing in family groups and limited to 150 families per season. The ranch will no longer be open to the public.

"Los Ricos" means "the rich ones," the Frumkins explain, "because anyone with the kind of outdoor life we have here is rich in the good things of life." The club is planned, however, for families rich in children rather than dollars. A charge of $115 per season will be made regardless of the size of the family group. For a family with four children, for example, the charge would be less than $20

Community Center Still Seeks Pool

by Dorothy Reed

Ways and means of forwarding the long-hoped-for Community Swimming Pool were the main topic under consideration at last Monday's meeting of the Community Center's Board of Directors--as soon as treasurer Martha Huff reported that the operating deficit has been at least temporarily offset by a series of emergency donations. In recent months the board has confirmed its estimate of $50,000 total expenditure for swimming and diving pools, bathhouse facilities and necessary extras.

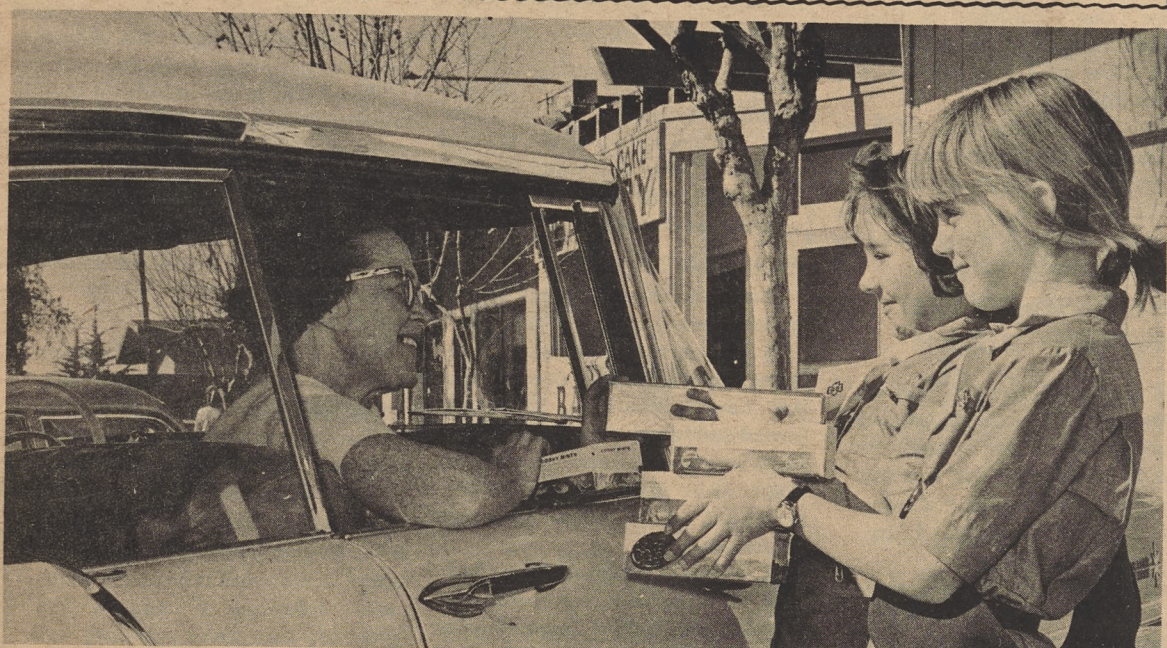

SELL CENTER ?

The prior suggestion had arisen that many of the building's functions could now be performed by the multi-purpose room at Tulareitos School, and that perhaps the Valley would be better served if the present Community Center were sold and the money applied toward a pool. In this context a letter was received from Rev. James Brock of St. Dunstan's Episcopal Church, requesting that his church be given an opportunity to buy the property in the event a sale were contemplated. He offered to extend to groups and members of the community the same arrangements for the use of the building which they now enjoy. By direction of the Board, President Howard Carter replied that no such move was planned at present.

CROSBY FUND

A letter was also received from Peter Ferrante on behalf of the Crosby Fund, to which a presentation has been made concerning the swimming pool project. He said that the Fund is still awaiting a decision regarding its tax status and cannot consider any applications until this is cleared up. Action is hoped for in the very near future. The Board agreed that a definite answer--positive or negative--from the Crosby Fund would be a very strong factor in shaping future policy.

Lois Robinson, secretary of the Board, was directed to post the necessary legal notice of the Center's annual meeting, to be held March 25.

GIRL SCOUT COOKIE TIME

Under sunny skies and amid the first Spring greenery, the Carmel River is now a shallow silver ribbon winding gently through our vale, safe for delighted small fry to splash in (if accompanied by parents, of course!)

Only a couple of weeks ago, it was a delightful challenge, filled with makeshift bobbing rafts, teen-agers, and young adults careening down the "rapids" toward the sea.

Only a few days before that, it was a roaring muddy turbulence, eating away the land at the edge of several local homes.

One reason that the local flood problem has never been tackled on a Valley-wide scale (the only scale at which it is possible to solve the problem) is that it comes only every few years, lasts only a few days, and affects only a few homes.

We hear from one of those homeowners today in a telephone interview conducted by the OUTLOOK—one of several to be reported in what promises to be a rather lengthy series.

THE CASE OF THE INNOCENT BUYER

Col. George Brown (USA, Ret.) of Meadows Rd. said one aspect he thought should be brought out about the flood problem was that of the "innocent buyer." Cheerfully, if wryly, he placed himself in that category.

When he bought his property in the summer of 1957, he didn't dream that a flood problem existed—in fact, he said, he was hardly aware of the existence of the river. An "island" interposed between his property and the normal river channel, which was then dry and 300 feet from the house he decided to buy. The explanation given for a ditch along the property line was that it was simply an "overflow ditch" for rainwater run-off.

SAD LESSON

The Colonel said he learned better when the River flooded the next year, and he lost 200 feet (in both depth & width) from his property.

Following the flood, he and a neighbor consulted about the problem with State Forestry, Soil Conservation, and Army Engineer personnel. Consequently they employed a bulldozer to slope back the banks along their respective properties. This helped his own situation considerably during the last high waters this year, Col. Brown said, but because the River had taken a new swing, the neighbor lost further land—to the tune of an acre. He also cited the obvious threat of the river to other nearby residences.

SUMMARY

The Colonel summed up by making two points:

(1) A dangerous and costly condition does exist and people who are new to the area, inexperienced and ignorant of flood problems in general, and who buy in haste as he did following his assignment to Fort Ord, are most vulnerable.

(2) Water conservation is such an all-important problem in California! Col. Brown hopes that the study about to be taken by the Army Engineers will result in creation of a Flood Control district, and erection of a flood control dam.

OPPOSITION

We pointed out that such measures were opposed by others in the Valley who felt they should not have to pay for the ignorance, stupidity, or deliberate gambling of those who chose to build or buy on the River.

"We don't have children, but we expect to pay for school bonds," was Col. Brown's reply. "The matter is one of community needs as a whole." He pointed out that the River is a major asset for the entire Valley, providing recreation and enjoyment for all, and that Valley residents who live in the hills have no hesitancy about crossing his property or that of others who live at the River's edge. People who live by the River enjoy it, and appreciate the urge that others have to enjoy it as well, he said.

"The River is irresistible at this time of year. It gives me the greatest pleasure to watch others enjoy it, too." But by the same token he expects that those others might accept their share of the responsibility for problems which the River occasionally brings.

NEXT WEEK—

Next week we will present an interview with a hillside-dweller who feels (as the majority of Valley residents have repeatedly indicated they feel) that a flood control dam would be a great folly in Carmel Valley. Our next week's guest, however, has some unique and refreshing alternate solutions to suggest. We prophesy that these solutions will sound delightful to all but impractical to most—yet they've been backed up by soil conserva-

ANOTHER LAMB KILLED BY DOG

One more small lamb will never frolic on the green or be bathed and blocked for the 4-H show. He was killed by a dog last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stone of Los Ranchitos. Last year, the Stones lost a lamb and had several older sheep injured by dogs.

Losses were also suffered last year by Mrs. T. A. Work of Los Ranchitos, and by Mrs. Joseph Goodrick and Dr. Joseph Noto in the lower Valley.

Mrs. Stone reports that she "strongly suspects" a German police dog which has been seen crossing her pasture recently. "I expect that some dog in our vicinity has quite a bit of wool stuck in between his teeth," said Mrs. Stone. She explains that it is rather difficult for a dog to remove wool from his teeth, and that the wool will probably be there for some time, so that local owners who have misgivings about the behavior of their pets might check their mouths for telltale evidence.

Starr Tells Kiwanians About Berlin Trip

A grim picture of Eastern Berlin and the infamous Wall was painted by CV attorney Mark Starr in a talk to his fellow-Kiwanians at last Tuesday's luncheon meeting. Starr, who was recently married and traveled in December to Germany to meet the family of his bride, illustrated his points with movies taken by Ed Hogan, also of Carmel Valley and also a recent traveler in Europe.

Starr likened the experience of crossing into the Eastern sector to that of entering a prison. The purpose of the Wall, he pointed out, is not to keep outsiders from entering, but rather to prevent Eastern Berliners from defecting to the West. Estimating that only 10% of East Berliners favor the Communist regime, Starr drew a sharp contrast between the two sectors in terms of living conditions and rehabilitation since the war. The pictures he showed provided graphic testimony—and also pointed up the speaker's opinion that U. S. policy should have taken a firmer course in Berlin. This, too, is the general opinion of the German people, Starr said.

AID CALLS

Two ambulance runs were made during the week by crew members of the Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Department First Aid Squad. Mr. Joseph B. Harlow of 66 Rancho Road suffered a heart attack and was transported to the Carmel Community Hospital on Friday morning. A 5:00 a. m. call Saturday took Mildred Hicks to the mouth of the Valley where she was transferred to an A-1 ambulance and taken to the Monterey Hospital for treatment of a possible broken leg and lacerations of the head. Mrs. Hicks sustained injuries in a fall from her porch.

As our readers can readily see, we've decided to run a series because the varying points of view presented to us are all well worth considering. We shall also have some more solid information to present and, hopefully, a summary at the end of the series.

per person for the entire six-month season (April 1 through Sept. 30), they point out, adding wryly, "of course, if we get the Beardsleys, we might go broke!"

The Saddle Mountain Ranch facilities include large heated swimming pool, separate wading pool, playground, dance pavilion and snack bar, barbecue pits and picnic tables, volley ball and badminton courts, ping pong tables, games such as tether ball and English darts, hiking trails, and a variety of farm animals and/or pets which have always been part of the general attraction.

No liquor is sold at the Ranch, although members will be permitted to bring their own beverages if they desire.

An optional, informally organized recreation program is planned for the summer, including swimming instruction groups, a women's exercise class, a hiking group, nature study for children, and a Friday evening swim-and-dance social.

Mr. and Mrs. Frumkin are well-known locally for their participation in Valley civic affairs and for the unofficial but well-respected chaperonage and babysitting functions which their recreation park has fulfilled for the past six years.

Their decision to close the ranch to the public came about as the facilities have grown more and more crowded in recent years.

Non-member private groups will be admitted on Saturdays and Sundays, by pre-arrangement only.

Families wishing further information about membership should call the Frumkins at MA 4-1617 for an interview-appointment.

Saddle Mountain Ranch is located off Schulte Road, near Carmelo School, four miles from the Valley entrance.

GARDEN ASSOCIATION

The Carmel Valley Garden Association will meet Friday March 1 at 8:00 p. m., in the Multipurpose room of Tularcitos Elementary School to hear guest speaker Hugh Smith, a tree surgeon, give a talk on trees. Pete Naugle, who heads this year's committee for the Plant Sale that accompanies each Flower and Garden Show requests that Valley residents start slips and cuttings now so that they will be established in time for the May Show. The plant booth is a popular feature of the show with profits earned used for show support.

ANOTHER USNPG INSTRUCTOR MOVES TO CARMEL VALLEY

New residents of the grey-and-white house on Dorris Drive in Berwick Manor are Cdr. and Mrs. Sherman W. Blandin and their four youngsters: Jim, 16; Sue, 11; Laurie, 8; and Sally, 5. Cdr. Blandin is another in the long list of Valleyites who teach at the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School. They were transferred here from Washington, D.C. Cdr. Blandin is in the Management School.

SAILING LESSONS

The DON MEYERS family of Country Club Drive are very much enjoying the sailing lessons they're taking from Ed Muniz at the Monterey Yacht Center. The parents and older youngsters had done some sailing previously, but it's a brand new experience for the younger children.

WOMEN'S CLUB INVITES CV TO CONCERT

A unique musical experience will be offered Valley residents next week when the CV Womens Club presents a concert by the Chinese-Mandarin choir of the Army Language School. The group will appear at the Community Center Wednesday, March 6, at 2:00 p. m., and will sing several selections in Chinese. The music of these songs is built on the old Chinese seven-tone scale. Dr. Pao-Chen Lee, chairman of the Chinese-Mandarin Department and director of the choir, will present brief program notes before each number.

The choir was founded by Dr. Lee ten years ago and is restricted in membership to full-time students in his department. The current group includes about 40 officers and enlisted men and in addition three ladies—two service wives and a WAVE. They have appeared in San Francisco at the Chinese New Year celebration and at the annual gathering of the Bay Area Chinese Students' Association. To the best of Dr. Lee's knowledge, the choir is the only one of its kind in the country.

All interested persons are cordially invited to the concert, which will replace the regular March meeting of the Womens Club. A refreshment hour will follow.

Fidelity Club

Far away places will again be featured when the Fidelity Club holds its monthly meeting at the Carmel Valley Community Chapel, Thursday evening, March 7th, at six o'clock. This time, following a potluck supper, Mr. W. E. Viljoen of Rancho Road will talk about "South Africa, past and present; its culture and its people." A well qualified speaker on the subject, Mr. Viljoen will supplement his talk with illustrated material.

The Fidelity Club welcomes all those over fifty who wish to come and spend a pleasant evening with people of their own age group. Some will be there who remember the Boer War of South Africa while others present just weren't born at the time of that struggle.

For information on what to bring for the potluck supper, a main dish or dessert, call Mrs. Hunt, the secretary, OL 9-4404, or Mrs. Naslund, the program chairman, OL 9-2387.

More than thirty people attended last meeting of the Fidelity Club when Mr. and Mrs. Bob Davidson of Live Oak Lane showed some unusually good slides of Central Europe.

CLUB AWARD DINNER

A doggy theme prevailed at Reuben's Steak House, Carmel Valley last Monday evening, when Del Monte Kennel Club held their first annual awards dinner for club members and members of the Dog Obedience Training Group. The dinner was in honor of members of the Training Group whose dogs have obtained the A, K, C. Companion Dog degree thru obedience training with the Del Monte Kennel Club.

Arrangements for the dinner were made by Mrs. Robert Van Blarcom. Mrs. Lester Grossman specially designed the place cards depicting each individual's breed of dog.

Capt. Paul H. Combs, Jr., Director of Training, presented the custom made silver medalion awards to the following members: Mr. Frank H. Grover, Club President; Mrs. Frank Grover, Mr. Robert Steinmetz, Mrs. Bruce Marta, Mrs. Gene Cornelius, Mrs. Marq Foley, and Mrs. Paul Combs, Jr.

Members and guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grover, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Van Blarcom, Dean and Mrs. Roy Glasgow, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Speer, Capt. and Mrs. Paul Combs, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. James Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Steinmetz, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Marta, Major and Mrs. Lester Grossman, Mrs. Esther Williams, Mrs. June Wood, Miss Betty Eschen, Mrs. Gene Cornelius, Adm. and Mrs. Harold Pullin, Lt. and Mrs. Marq Foley, Mr. and Mrs. George Usher, Mrs. Daniel Waligora, Miss Susan Waligora, Mrs. Geraldine Bellnap, Major Moravek, and Mrs. Ronald.

Steelhead Season Closes Today

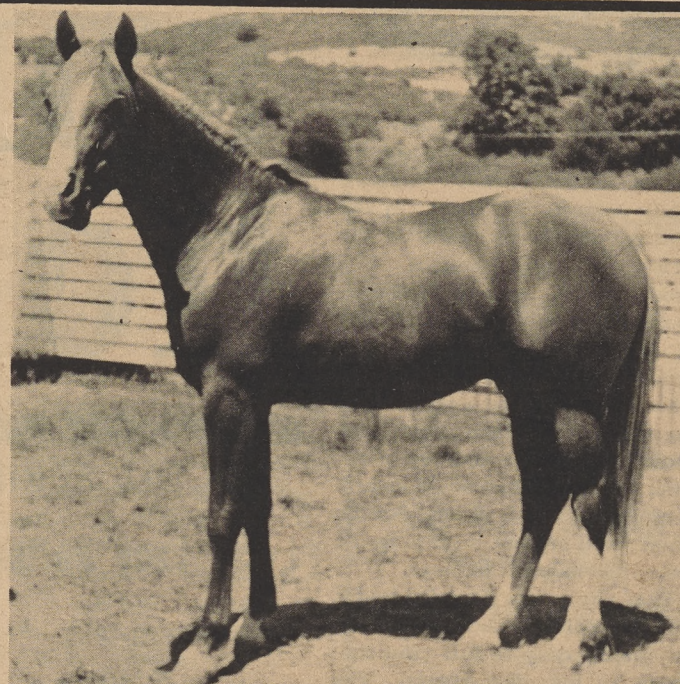

Barefoot boys and booted papas cantake no more steelhead from the Carmel Valley River this year, after today. The steelhead season closes on February 28, Game Warden Les Golden reminds local fishermen.

The regular trout season will not open until May 4.

Until the end of March, wild pigs may still be hunted in our hills, but this is the only game which may legally be taken at this time, Golden added.

The well-known local warden recently completed a week's in-service course which the Fish & Game Department conducts each year in San Francisco. He has also been working as far south as Morro Bay and in Moss Landing.

Under the Oaks and Among the Cactus

by mildred hattan

JODY and TONI LUCAS, twin granddaughters of IRENE BALDWIN, were honored with a family birthday dinner last week at the Italian Villa in Salinas. In addition to their grandmother and aunt, MARJORIE IBSEN, the girls were joined by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lucas, their sister, Judy, and a friend, Chris Schorette, all of Watsonville. It was the twins' ninth birthday.

HEATHER ANNE, daughter of former Robles DelRio residents ANNE and JOE PARSONS, was christened on February 10 at St. Luke's Episcopal Church in Mountain Brook, Alabama. Mrs. Richard B. Frazer of Robles Del Rio is one of her Godmothers and the other sponsors were Robert and Suzanne Parsons of Birmingham, Ala. (Joe's brother and sister-in-law) and Mrs. James Pfaffmon of Atlanta, Ga.

Immediately following the baptismal services, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parsons welcomed a son at a Birmingham hospital! Anne and Joe have still not decided whether to settle in the east or return to Carmel Valley (HA!) but have spent some time in Virginia and are presently staying with Dr. Joseph Parsons, Sr., in Birmingham. (Do you suppose that a post card campaign would help return this popular couple to the Valley?)

MRS. REUBEN HAMPTON, accompanied by daughter CINDY, drove to Louisville, Kentucky, last week to stay with Kay's parents both of whom are recovering from accidents.

Members of the Show committee who met last week at the home of MRS. WILLIAM (KATHLEEN) WOODS enthusiastically accepted her suggestion of "California" as a theme for this year's Flower and Garden Show to be held May 4 and 5. Mrs. Woods is serving as Arrangement Chairman and will be assisted by MRS. W. P. ANTHONY. The categories for the arrangement division have been designated as Mountains, Desert, Valleys Coast, Motherlode, Cities, Towns and Villages. Never has the choice of ideas been so tempting for both experts and the novice arranger. Close your eyes, point to a spot on the map of California and let your imagination carry you to an award winning arrangement!

A happy birthday to KATHY NEILL, daughter of the CLAYTON

B. NEILL, JR., on Toyon Way. Kathy celebrated her eighth birthday Saturday with a theatre party for a number of her second grade playmates.

SHIRLEY and DICK FRAZER and children spent the George Washington weekend with Dorothy and Paul Ingham and their sons Mark and Scott of Orangevale. A day in the snow at Tahoe was on their schedule.

SCOUT COOKIE SALE

Girl Scouts of Carmel Valley, who last week joined fellow-members throughout the Peninsula in the annual cookie sale, will next week call on their neighbors to carry on the project, which will continue until March 9.

The sale is announced as having a two-fold purpose: to have the girls do a service to the Monterey Peninsula Council of Girl Scouts, and to have them assume "a responsibility for practicing sound business methods."

The Council's finance committee has announced that a proportion of the money will be put aside for the purchase of a campsite, since the lease on Camp Loma will expire after this summer.

There will be 3 kinds of cookies sold this year: the classic chocolate mint, the butter-nut (repeated this year "by popular demand"), and a new type of vanilla-and-cinnamon.

Mrs. Walter Patton is chairman of the sale for Carmel Valley.

"THIS IS A STICKUP!," gritted Dwight Jones, when he discovered his sister, Jan (center,) and Cathy Bishop selling Girl Scout cookies at the booth they had set up outside Carmel Valley Market. Cathy, who somewhat less than terrorized by the water pistol, is the one Senior Scout in Carmel Valley; she assists the leaders of troop 94, and in addition is well-known for her singing voice and her penchant for folk music.

(Shortly after this picture was taken, the worst came to pass, and the girls were somewhat sprinkled.)

DISASTER GROUP TO COMPILE MEDICAL REGISTRY

The Carmel Valley Defense and Disaster Organization is preparing a registry for nurses, ex-corpsmen, etc., who would be willing to assist doctors in a time of disaster.

Tom Waters, who presently heads the organization, said he would like to hear from "anyone who has had medical training of any description in or out of military service." Because of the busy schedule and lack of extra facilities at the office of CV's one physician, Dr. C.W. Van Horn, Waters will accept calls from those willing to be listed in the medical registry. He can be contacted at OL 9-2970.

When the registry is completed, those involved will meet for a briefing, Waters said.

The First Aid Crew of the Volunteer Fire Dept. is not included in this "call", because a mobilization plan already exists for this group.

The CVDO would also like to remind all residents, regardless of age, to "bring yourself up to date with those essential tetanus and typhoid shots."

MR. and MRS. CLYDE YEISLEY have moved to 29 Paso Hondo. He is owner of the Monterey Fence Company.

OLD CHRISTMAS CARDS FOR GUILD PROJECT

Old Christmas cards, to be sent to the Presbyterian Children's Mission in Taiwan, are sought by the Chapel Guild. Cards may be left at the Thunderbird Shop in the Village.

On March 13, Mrs. Florence

Logan, formerly a missionary in the Taiwan area, will speak to the Chapel Guild at the CV Community Center. Mrs. Logan, now retired and living in San Francisco, will explain more about what is being done with the Christmas cards.

Chapel Jr. High Valentine Dance

by Pat McKiernon

The Valentine party held by the C.V. Junior Fellowship was a real smash! The first thing on the agenda was a scavenger hunt. There were five groups and all had a list of things to collect. A few of the articles were; three broomstraws, a mothball, a 7-Up bottle cap, an empty coke bottle, an old shoe, an old toothbrush and other various hilarities.

Larry Hearn later admitted that when he and Bill Miller were looking for the bottle cap and coke bottle, they were given a full bottle of each, so they drank them and took what was needed! The area that was covered was all of Village Drive and on up as far as Ford Rd.

When the things were counted and the prize given we were ready to dance. During the course of the evening, a heart was given to each group with a poem in code written on both sides. The prize for the fastest transcribers was a chocolate heart to each in the group.

Refreshments were served and we all had a great time. The center of attention was gained by John Haller, who was celebrating his birthday.

You can rest assured that the party was successful and well chaperoned. The chaperones included Capt. and Mrs. Thos. B. McKiernon, and Mrs. Thurston. Mrs. Otteson said that she really enjoyed herself.

Remember to come to the regular meeting next Friday from 7:00 to 9:00. The dues are 10¢ for regular meetings and 25¢ for dances or parties.

RANCHO FIESTA GASLINE FEASIBILITY STUDY

Gael Robinson, district representative for Pacific Gas and Electric Co. early this week confirmed local rumors that engineers employed by developer Paul Jones are making a survey of the possibility of bringing natural gas to Rancho Fiesta Retirement Community (the Valley's third project of this nature).

P.G. & E. is currently engaged in laying natural gas lines as far east as Rancho Tierra Grande subdivision, opposite Farm Center, approximately 6 miles from the Valley entrance.

That they will go any further, however, remains "only a possibility", Mr. Robinson firmly stated, until results from the current survey are completed.

The Rancho Fiesta Retirement Community will be located about a mile west of Carmel Valley Inn. At its last meeting, the board of directors of the Carmel Valley Chamber of Commerce voted to ask P.G. & E. to continue the gas lines to Carmel Valley Village.

Robinson says that P.G. & E. conducted an "informal survey" of the Village area last year, when it was decided to bring the gas lines as far as Carmel Valley Manor (4 miles from the Valley entrance.) He states now that if the gas lines go to Rancho Fiesta, the company will "continue to look into" the possibility of serving the Village. The informal survey of last year suggested, however, that gas lines to the Village would not be feasible unless and until they were installed at Rancho Fiesta.

Robinson said he "expected word any day" from the engineers retained by Paul Jones. Once their report is received, P.G. & E. will decide whether service to Rancho Fiesta is feasible.

CHAPEL AWARDS

Special awards were presented to members of the Carmel Valley Community Chapel Youth Choir last Sunday and the three young people receiving them were commended for their faithful attendance and their beautifully sung solos and duets. LINDA SPRING has earned her two year cross, DONNA CARTER, a three year cross, and ANN MEWHIRTER, a special three year award.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor
The Outlook

We wish to assure Mrs. Helen Gien that the Carmel Valley Chapter of the John Birch Society as well as the other Chapters in the area had absolutely no connection whatsoever with the recent mailing of the pamphlet, "Why People Become Communists."

As all John Birch Society material is available to anyone simply by writing Belmont it is apparent that anyone could have mailed the material. Any of our mailings will always bear a return address and will certainly not have postage due.

Sincerely,
Jim Large

Dear Editor:

I have hesitated to write a letter in response to that written by James Brock regarding an auto accident, because I realize he was just in a state of emotional upset. However, since some of the impressions he set forth were only emotional and not reasonable, it appears to me that he should have at least counted to 10.

In the first place, his "law of averages" statement would have to apply to all drivers of the Valley Road and so would leave us all involved in head-on crashes, which does sound a bit far fetched to me. And, Mr. Brock's belittling of the beauty of the Valley and the efforts of his neighbors on the various road committees to find a way to preserve that beauty appear completely out of place. It is natural to be upset at the shock of a fatal accident, but this does not give license to upbraid other citizens who are making an honest and sincere effort to correct a difficult situation.

Mr. Brock assumes that cars and roads kill people. No matter how much we would like to blame something inanimate, it is the people in the cars and on the roads who do the killing. This is a fast driving area and like it or not, the drivers are too often the ones carrying the heavy load!

There are safe two-lane roads which carry as much traffic as the Carmel Valley Rd. I am not arguing that the road should remain as it is. I am only pointing out that the local people are evidently somewhat more lethal than normal.

In contrast to some other horrible examples, Carmel Valley is still a place of beauty. This is the reason of course why most local residents... have chosen to live here. This beauty is real and tangible. It is important enough to take the time to preserve. This can be done and many Valley residents are putting in long hours to find the best way. There is no reason to settle for less, traffic accidents notwithstanding.

For formerly beautiful Valleys that are now "safe" with 4, 6, and 8 lanes, cyclone fencing, interchanges, overpasses, underpasses, etc., I suggest the San Fernando, the Santa Clara, and soon-to-be--the Salinas Valley. With his "law of averages" theory, Mr. Brock evidently feels that he would be safer there.

Which of course answers Mr. Brock's last question. No, safety is not our prime consideration, else we would make our bed a fortress and never leave it. Or, we would live in one of those other "safe" Valleys.
